Cortlandt Kalkstein

Kokomo High School Class of 2019 graduate Cortlandt Kalkstein plans to attend Indiana University Purdue University at Indianapolis to major in Business Marketing with a minor in Communications. Cortlandt, the son of Curt Kalkstein and Susan Alexander, hopes to complete excellent business internships in Indianapolis while earning his degree, and eventually would like to pursue a career as an entrepreneur. The KHS Senior Class President took advantage of the Advanced College Preparatory Program at Kokomo High School by completing both Advanced Placement classes and International Baccalaureate Diploma Program classes, including AP Human Geography, AP Physics, AP Environmental Science, IB Language & Literature, and IB Spanish. The Varsity Swim Team Captain noted that "Kokomo High School provides challenging and engaging courses, as well as wonderful teachers who care." The Unified Track athlete thanked Central Middle International School Principal Holly Herrera and CEO Instructor Morgan Young "for believing in me in ways others did not, for challenging me to think critically, and for always encouraging me." The KHS Boys' Legion member thanked Kokomo High School for providing "an experience that has prepared me for college and beyond!"
